

Beyond the Blueprint – What Will California Look Like After June 15?

Everyday Life

California plans to fully reopen the economy on June 15¹. Everyday life will feel a lot like before COVID-19. Restaurants, shopping malls, movie theaters, and most everyday places² will be open as normal with no capacity limits or social distancing required. Of course, anyone can wear a mask anytime they'd like, especially around children and others who are vulnerable or not yet eligible for vaccination.

All Californians will continue to follow state masking guidelines as well as state and CDC travel guidelines.

Mega Events

Some public health measures will remain for mega events, which include 5,000+ people indoors or 10,000+ outdoors. Think concerts, sporting events, festivals, and conventions. Mega events are high risk for spreading COVID-19 because they attract people from around the world, and people gather in crowds.

Indoor mega event attendees will be required to confirm proof of vaccination or negative COVID-19 status to attend. Outdoor mega event attendees will be strongly encouraged to do so.

What's Next?

California will keep a close eye on COVID-19 vaccination and infection rates over the summer and keep these guidelines in place until at least October 1, 2021.

More Information

Visit this document on the CDPH website

¹See the full Beyond the Blueprint guidance. Read the Beyond the Blueprint Q&A.

²This does not apply to schools, health care settings and some other public settings. Local health jurisdictions may impose stricter criteria. Employers are subject to the Cal/OSHA COVID-19 Prevention Emergency Temporary Standards \(ETS\) if applicable.

